

NSQH 2024

The 7th Nordic research conference on patient safety and quality

29th - 30th August, Oslo, Norway

Welcome to the 7th Nordic conference on research in patient safety and quality, organized by the Nordic Research Network for Safety and Quality in Healthcare in collaboration with Akershus University Hospital.

Guiding Concepts

The conference will address current research and future ethical dilemmas and opportunities regarding patient safety in healthcare.

Ethics - Equity - Experiences are the guiding concepts for the 2024 NSQH conference.

Call for Abstracts

Submissions for oral and/or poster presentations and workshop proposals are welcome at <https://nsqhabstracts.eu>

Deadline April 24th.

When

29. august 2024, 09.00–17.00

30. august 2024, 09.00–15.00

Save the date!

More Information

Scan code to read more at ahus.no/nsqh

Keynote speakers

The Keynote speakers will reflect on ethical dilemmas and opportunities related to artificial intelligence and patient safety and share knowledge about patient safety related to reflective spaces, and equity in healthcare.

David W. Bates

Physician, biomedical informatician, and professor, who is internationally renowned for his work regarding the use of health information technology (HIT) to improve the safety and quality of healthcare.

Siri Wiig

Centre Director at SHARE the largest research group in Norway doing research on quality and safety in healthcare. Professor of Quality and Safety in Healthcare Systems.

Rebecca Lawton

Professor in Psychology of Healthcare at University of Leeds, UK. As a behavioral scientist, Rebecca has a particular interest in the emotional, cognitive and behavioral factors that underpin safe care and the local and system level cultures, environments and processes that influence these.

Stig Harthug

Prof. of medicine at University of Bergen, was in charge of The Patient Safety Unit at Haukeland University Hospital. Former Chair of The Reference Group for the Norwegian Patient Safety Campaign.

Akershus University Hospital

Address: Sykehusveien 25, Lørenskog
Postal address: Postb. 1000, 1478 Lørenskog
Phone: + 47 67 96 00 00
E-mail: postmottak@ahus.no

